EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with John Rogitz on April 13, 2010.

The application has been amended as follows:

In claim 12, line 4, --within the video portion of—has been inserted after “that are” and “part of” has been deleted;

In claim 15, line 1, --input device—has been inserted after “the” and “means for selecting” has been deleted; and

In claim 28, line 4, --within the video portion of—has been inserted after “that are” and “part of” has been deleted.

Claim 29 has been deleted.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The present invention is directed to a system for linking content to viewing and/or shopping recommendation. Independent claim 12 identifies the uniquely distinct features "an input device for selecting alpha numeric characters that are presented on a video display and that are within the video portion of a DVD content by highlighting the characters using the input device and pressing a selector key on the input device" and

Art Unit: 2621

“means responsive to the means for receiving for automatically accessing a source of recommended viewing and/or shopping” and independent claim 28 identifies the uniquely distinct features “an input device for selecting alpha numeric characters that are presented on a video display and that are within the video portion of a DVD content, the alpha numeric characters representing an actor’s name” and “the processor automatically accessing a source of recommended viewing and/or shopping to return content titles associated with the actor’s name”. The closest prior art Kanazawa (US 6,580,870) and Cohen et al (US 2002/0040329 A1) discloses conventional DVD player and an electronic interactive purchasing on-line system, respectively, either singularly or in combination, fail to anticipate or render the above under limitations obvious.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled “Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance.”

Any inquiry concerning this communication should be directed to THAI TRAN at telephone number (571)272-7382.
